Choosing to study at the only internationally accredited business school in Western Australia, at a World Top 100 University, is an investment in your future.

UWA Business School
The UWA Business School is one of only seven institutions in Australia to hold both EQUIS (European Quality Improvement System) and AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business) accreditation. These international accreditations, based respectively in Europe and the United States, ensure our degrees are recognised by employers worldwide, and guarantee the quality of our teaching, research, students and other operational areas.

The UWA Business School is overseen by a Board of highly influential business leaders, and the School fosters outstanding links with corporate partners and alumni. Our major corporate partners include ATCO Australia, BHP Billiton, Ernst & Young, Macquarie Group, Mitsubishi Development, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Wesfarmers and Woodside. These industry links enable us to provide unmatched networking opportunities for our students, and ensure our programs are relevant and valuable to industry.

The University of Western Australia
The University of Western Australia is recognised as one of the leading universities in the world, with a century of experience in offering internationally regarded courses. UWA is ranked 88th in the world by Shanghai Jiao Tong University's internationally recognised Academic Ranking of World Universities, while the QS rankings place UWA at 89th in the world.

UWA is the only Western Australian member of the prestigious Group of Eight network, which is comprised of Australia’s leading research-intensive universities, as well as a member of the Worldwide Universities Network and a founding member of the Matariki Network of Universities.

Australia’s foremost independent university rating body, The Good Universities Guide 2015, has given UWA a five-star rating, confirming us as Western Australia’s leading university and one of the nation’s best. In fact, UWA rates equal first in Australia on the key performance measures of student demand, graduate starting salaries, research intensity and research grants.

Daniel Jovevski
MBA 2014
Daniel is the founder of SwitchMyLoan, the highly effective mortgage comparison website which won him the Young Entrepreneur Award at the 2013 Belmont Small Business Awards.

He started his successful business and his MBA around the same time, and in the first year he referred over $106 million worth of home loans to the biggest banks in Australia.

“The MBA gave me the confidence to walk into boardrooms, and feel absolutely comfortable. My peers in the program were much older, and getting to know them was invaluable,” Daniel says.

“I learnt how to think strategically – Business is about doing, but it’s also about thinking, and deciding on which strategy you’re going to pursue. Having a sound theoretical understanding of strategic management has helped us focus on bigger vision as company. “Negotiating – I would recommend that any aspiring business student take the class with Professor Ray Fels; this class has single handily helped us with large agreements that I would have never closed without taking that class. Do it.

“The best thing about the UWA alumni is you can pick up the phone and speak to a colleague, and bounce ideas off them. In the same breath, I love receiving contact from fellow alumni about some advice, and giving value back to the UWA community.

“Surrounding myself with inspiring people on campus, learning from successes and failures, it’s definitely given an insight into overcoming obstacles that we experience in the business.”

Our corporate partners

The University of Western Australia | 02
Top-level industry networks

As a UWA Business School MBA or Graduate Certificate student, you will benefit from practical industry experience and deep corporate involvement from global companies such as ATCO Australia, BHP Billiton, Ernst & Young, Resource Capital Funds, Wesfarmers, and Woodside.

These partnerships with industry allow us to offer valuable and unparalleled experiences, including:
- Student boardroom lunches
- Applied business projects
- One-on-one mentoring
- Case studies and industry guest lectures
- Career and networking events
- Industry-sponsored scholarships

Student boardroom lunches
All MBA Full Time students, together with high achieving students in the MBA Flexible and Graduate Certificates, are invited to exclusive boardroom lunches hosted by the UWA Business School’s corporate partners. At these lunches, students are able to speak with company CEOs and executives, gaining a unique insight into the opportunities and challenges facing that particular company as well as the wider industry.

Companies to have hosted boardroom lunches in 2014 include ATCO Australia, BDO, BHP Billiton, Ernst & Young, Gerard Daniels, Macquarie Group, Mitsui & Co, Resource Capital Funds, and Woodside.

Applied business projects
MBA Full Time students complete a three-part Business Advisory Project. Completed under the guidance of senior industry mentors, the project requires each group of students to work on a specific deliverable.

Or, if you enrol in the MBA Flexible, your capstone Strategic Management unit will give you the opportunity to examine the overall strategic direction of a real-life organisation.

Working as part of a small team, you will have the opportunity to interview senior executives, before writing a case history, completing a strategic analysis of the company, and making recommendations for the organisation’s future. Previously, our students have worked with Australian and international companies including Austal Ships, BMW, EMKAY Group, Onshelf, Origin Energy and Woolworths.

One-on-one mentoring
MBA Full Time students benefit from one-on-one sessions with senior executives and managers, giving them high-level insights into their chosen industries.

MBA Flexible and Graduate Certificate students can take part in a mentoring program run by UWA’s Careers Centre, matching students with experienced professionals who can provide personalised advice.

Case studies and industry guest lectures
MBA and Graduate Certificate classes include a strong focus on case studies and real-life events. Whether you are hearing from an industry executive, using a Harvard Case Study, or taking part in a simulation exercise, there are countless opportunities to put theory into practice.

Past MBA and Graduate Certificate guest lecturers have included:
- Peter Coleman, CEO and Managing Director, Woodside Petroleum, Adjunct Professor and Business School Board Member
- Dr Richard Goyder AO, Managing Director, Westfarmers Limited,
- Advance Professor and Business School Board Member
- Emeritus Professor Tracey Horton, President, Chamber of Commerce and Industry Western Australia
- Angus Jaffrey, Managing Partner, The Boston Consulting Group
- Steven Lansky, Managing Director and COO of ARCO Australia and former President and CEO of DamierChrysler Canada
- James McClements, Co-founder and Managing Partner, Resource Capital Funds
- James McMahon, Director of Chase Group and former Commanding officer of the Special Air Service Regiment (SAS)
- Ron Samuel, Creative Director, Chauvel Group and former Commanding officer of the Special Air Service Regiment (SAS)
- Diane Smith-Gander, Chair of Transfield Services and Non-Executive Director of Wesfarmers, Adjunct Professor and Business School Board Member
- Jimmy Wilson, President, BHP Billiton Iron Ore, Adjunct Professor and Business School Board Member
- Emeritus Professor Tracey Horton, President, Chamber of Commerce and Industry Western Australia
- Angus Jaffrey, Managing Partner, The Boston Consulting Group
- Steven Lansky, Managing Director and COO of ARCO Australia and former President and CEO of DamierChrysler Canada
- James McClements, Co-founder and Managing Partner, Resource Capital Funds
- James McMahon, Director of Chase Group and former Commanding officer of the Special Air Service Regiment (SAS)
- Ron Samuel, Creative Director, Chauvel Group and former Commanding officer of the Special Air Service Regiment (SAS)
- Diane Smith-Gander, Chair of Transfield Services and Non-Executive Director of Wesfarmers, Adjunct Professor and Business School Board Member
- Jimmy Wilson, President, BHP Billiton Iron Ore, Adjunct Professor and Business School Board Member

Career and networking events
As an MBA or Graduate Certificate student, you will have access to a range of professional development seminars and workshops facilitated by our partner organisations and guest speakers. In addition, numerous organisations hold on-campus recruitment events, giving you an opportunity to network, meet prospective employers and plan your future career path.

Industry-sponsored scholarships
MBA and Graduate Certificate students can apply for a range of industry-sponsored scholarships. These scholarships provide financial support and also give you the opportunity to meet with your scholarship donor. For more information, see page 15.
Truly great leaders know their own personalities, values, strengths, and other areas which impact on how they manage themselves and others.

At the UWA Business School, MBA and Graduate Certificate students can complete unique and personalised programs focussing on personal and career development.

These programs encourage you to:

- Develop greater self-awareness of important thinking styles, personality traits, value sets, and other attributes that affect personal and leader effectiveness
- Identify personal strengths and areas to work on
- Establish, strive for, and reflect on personal and leadership development goals
- Practice and improve core management/leadership skills and behaviours

Leadership Development Program

All MBA Full Time students participate in the Leadership Development Program.

Developed by the UWA Business School’s world-class organisational behaviour researchers, the year-long program consists of three modules: Leading Self, Leading Others, and Leading Organisations.

Topics within the Leading Self module include goal setting, communication, dealing with conflict, resilience and coping, work-life balance, values-directed action, and taking a proactive approach to development.

Within Leading Others, topics include the leadership mindset, giving effective feedback, managing poor performance and conflict, listening and coaching, managing diversity, influencing others, and empowerment.

Complementing these modules, a Leading Organisations series gives you the opportunity to hear personal insights from leading executives and take part in networking and professional development events.

Launch MBA Flexible and Graduate Certificate students can choose to participate in Launch.

Developed by the Accelerated Learning Laboratory at UWA, Launch is a non-assessed module focussing on equipping students with self-management skills.

Similar to the Leading Self module within the Leadership Development Program, Launch focuses on topics including:

- Effective self-management to enable mastery of core work and study behaviours
- Adaptivity and flexibility in changing situations
- Taking charge of your own future and forging new directions

Launch equips students with the skills to become more agile and proactive in their approach to their careers and personal lives.

Reach your potential

“Research evidence tells us that every individual’s leadership development journey is unique. The path you take depends upon your personality, skills, life experiences, and a range of other factors.

At UWA, MBA Full Time students complete a 12-month program, with follow-up surveys once back in the workplace. Students also complete a long-term development plan, establish relationships with mentors, and develop skills to take charge of their own leadership development.”

Winthrop Professor Sharon Parker

Launch
MBA Full Time

Transform your career with a 12-month MBA, incorporating a personalised Leadership Development Program and exclusive interaction with senior business executives.

In addition to personal and career development, the MBA Full Time includes intensive study in core business areas and one specialist focus area of your choosing. The course structure comprises nine core units and three option units as listed below.

Core units

Option units

You will choose option units in one of three specialist area of focus: Leadership, Natural Resources, or General Management. By completing two or more option units in the same area, you will be able to focus your studies in this area.

Leadership

Our MBA is taught by world-class academics conducting research in areas such as leadership development, work systems design, cross-cultural collaboration, motivation, training, and safety behaviour. These researchers comprise editorial board members for leading journals, who collaborate with fellow researchers from institutions such as California State University, North Carolina State University, the Institute of Work Psychology at the University of Sheffield. Further, our experts have consulted to organisations such as police districts, law firms, global resources companies and commercial banks.

Choosing this focus area will allow you to develop advanced leadership skills, while exploring topics such as: emotional intelligence, conflict management, decision-making skills; gender and diversity issues; leading and managing change; personality and behaviour; stress management; and team and group dynamics.

Units include:
- Leading Global Collaborations
- Organisational Change and Transformation
- Becoming a Leader: Perspectives on Leadership Development

Natural Resources

Being located in one of the most dynamic natural resources hubs in the world, with a close proximity to China and the rest of Asia, makes UWA the ideal choice for those looking to take on leadership roles in the mining and energy sector.

If you choose this area of focus, you will also benefit from experienced professors, such as BHP Billiton Chair in the Business of Resources and President-elect of the International Association for Energy Economics, Winthrop Professor Peter Hartley, who research in areas such as resource economics and consult to top resources companies.

Units include:
- Global Energy and Mineral Markets
- Strategic Management of Resource Companies
- Valuation and Risk Analysis for Resource Companies

General Management

This area encompasses a wide range of topics in areas such as international business, negotiation, entrepreneurship and innovation, and corporate finance, allowing you to pursue a wide range of interests and goals.

Units include:
- Mergers and Acquisitions
- Negotiation Behaviour
- Project Management

All units subject to availability.

The MBA Full Time includes a suite of extra support to help you transform your career.

As an MBA Full Time student, you will have access to a range of initiatives, including:
- Dedicated Careers Services Manager and access to resources at the UWA Careers Centre, including advice, workshops, seminars and job listings
- One-on-ones with a senior executive and a senior manager mentor from a national or international company (up to six meetings per year)
- A Business Advisory Project working in a leading company on a real business issue. Your project will be matched to the industry in which you are focusing
- A domestic study tour, in which you can see company operations “up close”
- Direct contact with members of the Business School Board and direct access to “Experts in Residence”
- Job Fairs, profiling top Western Australian employers
- Case Club, facilitated by consultants from firms such as Ernst & Young and The Boston Consulting Group
- Faculty guidance and support

Leading Global Collaborations

Our MBA Full Time is designed to be a truly global degree that sets you up with both the skills and networks to excel anywhere in the world.

If you choose to enrol in our “Leading Global Collaborations” unit, you will be placed in teams with others from around the world, in locations such as:
- China – Peking University
- Finland – Swedish School of Economics
- Hong Kong – City University of Hong Kong
- India – Indian Institutes of Technology
- Israel – Israel Institute of Technology
- Spain – ESADE Business School
- United States – University of California, Stanford University, Michigan State University, University of Washington

You’ll work together on a real deliverable – the development of a training module for an executive, with an international assignment in a specific country. The training program is intended to introduce the executive to the culture and business practices that he or she will face when working in the local country.

This unit will build your skills in cross-cultural communication, virtual media, and dynamic planning and design, as well as helping you grow your own global business network.

Enhance your career options

George Paduieck

Business Process Data Lead – Production Integration, BHP Billiton

MBA 2012

“I was nervous when I left my job in Ontario to pursue the MBA at UWA and a career in resources. Fortunately, the BHP Billiton Scholarship was a blessing that opened so many doors and has helped make my plan a success.

It’ll be part of the Operational Readiness team for a new potash mine that BHP Billiton is building in Saskatchewan, Canada.

It’s a great opportunity for me and I will take full advantage of my background in engineering, my experience in operations management, as well as utilise my MBA. I couldn’t have asked for any more!”

Graduate Certificate in Social Impact

Become a top social innovator and manage organisations, programs and projects to achieve social impact and create meaningful social value.

This course is offered through a collaboration between the UWA Business School and the national Centre for Social Impact, and focuses on building the professional capacity of social managers and entrepreneurs of the future, across the corporate, government and not-for-profit sectors.

On completion of this course, you will graduate with the critical leadership skills to manage organisations and social programs leading social innovation and creating social value.

Course structure
The Graduate Certificate in Social Impact consists of four units:
 » Demonstrating Social Impact
 » Leadership for Social Impact
 » Social Impact: Entrepreneurs and Social Innovation
 » Social Investment and Philanthropy

Social Impact: Entrepreneurs and Social Innovation
This unit examines the accelerating economic relationship between government, business and the third sector to deliver social and environmental value in communities and the way in which this drives social innovation. The unit also examines the emerging fields of social enterprise and social philanthropy.

Demonstrating Social Impact
This unit provides an overview and introduction to evaluation and social impact assessment, the underlying principles of evaluation and social impact assessment and examines some of the key social impact measurement approaches increasingly used by business, government and leading third sector organisations in Australia and internationally, including Logic Models; Impact evaluation; Social Return on Investment (SROI); and Social Impact Assessment (SIA).

Social Investment and Philanthropy
This unit introduces the history, core concepts and current issues in the fields of philanthropy, fundraising and social investment undertaken by government and business. It examines the major changes reshaping philanthropy and social investment internationally and in the Australian context: global economic realignments; the privatisation of community services; new patterns of wealth distribution and of inter-generational wealth transfer; and greater expectations of the role of corporate citizenship and of corporate philanthropy.

Leadership for Social Impact
This unit provides students with an introduction to the challenges and opportunities of leading organisations and social programs with the purpose of improving social outcomes. This unit examines current challenges in achieving social benefit, leadership in the social economy, leadership focused on identifying adaptive challenges, new forms of organising and collective intelligence, and new governance systems and demands.

Delivery mode
This course is taught in part-time mode only, and classes are delivered in intensive Friday and Saturday teaching blocks.

Further study
This course can serve as an entry point into the MBA Flexible program. Students may also be able to undertake the MBA Full Time program.
