One of the benefits of being an UWA AusAID Alumni is the opportunity to network with alumni from your institution or other institutions and organizations in similar fields and positions in many locations throughout the world.

AusAID or other alumni or student association networks are often formed in your home countries and UWA may be asked by AusAID or another of these reputable associations to provide your contact details so they can invite you to join their network of students who have been educated in Australia, or to professional or social events being planned.

If you sign this form, we will release this information when asked to do so.

Signing this form is optional.

I agree to AusAID and the University of Western Australia providing my name and contact details to alumni networks or reputable associations for students educated in Australia, who may be arranging professional, social and alumni activities in my home country.
